KNOW THE TOTAL COST OF OWNERSHIP OF A HELICOPTER A short introduction by Jean Marc Youkhana

It's easy to find a helicopter for sale on the internet and we would back you to get the best deal possible.

However, the most important figure to calculate is that of Total Cost Ownership and this is never included in the ticket price.

It takes a helicopter specialist with a contemporary understanding of the market to accurately forecast the depreciation that the machine will inevitably incur over a given period.

He will also provide you with a knowledgeable financial assessment of the likely direct operating costs, annual running rates and typical unscheduled expenses.

All of this will be specific to the model of aircraft you intend to buy.

And finally, a specifically will tell you if your helicopter is right for its intended mission, whether or not it is handling correctly or whether you should walk away from the deal and find a suitable alternative.

We, at Uplifting Aviation, are those experts and we can offer you this level of procurement expertise whether you are buying or selling a helicopter.
